Burglars Crack Mercer St. Safe During Sunday

Believe Thief Works At Elliott Waddington Safe In Broad Daylight

DISCOVER ROBBERY ON SUNDAY NIGHT

About $90 In Cash And Other Valuables Are Taken In Burglary

Safe at the Elliott & Waddington place of business, 116-118 North Mercer street, was forced open, evidently by an individual, who knew the safe cracking business, Sunday afternoon or early evening, and cash amounting to $90.38 was taken. Scattered about the floor of the office, the thief left checks and other valuable papers, and made his getaway.

Discovery of the robbery was made about eight o'clock Sunday night by Harold Allen, an employee of the place, on entering to see that everything was all right.

After looking to determine where the safe crackers had gained admittance and not finding any evidence of the place of entry, he called the police and notified the owners.

Lieutenant of Police Peter Hilliers, and Officers Moore and Letera answered the call and made a complete investigation. With the exception of one lock, which had the appearance of having been forced, there has been found no indication of where the thief entered and left the place.

Uses Tools Of Firm

On entering, the thief made a trip upstairs to the repair shop of the concern and secured several large hammers, some chisels and punches and these were the tools used in forcing open the safe and securing the money. They were found on the floor in front of the safe in the midst of the debris.

The combination was knocked off and then the chisels and punches used in cutting out a piece of steel door of the safe, just the size of the inner protecting steel plate of the safe. When this hole was completed, the removal of the inner plate and the forcing of the combination was an Workmen had just completed the dam in the Neshannock to provide a bathing place for youngsters, when the hot weather did a fadeaway. The temperature dropped about twenty or thirty degrees yesterday from the excessive heat of the week previous. That didn't deter the youngsters from splashing around in the pool however, as a hundred or more were in the water Sunday afternoon. The pool is but a few feet deep but it provides a place for the children to cool off that has long been a need in the city.

New Wilmington is teeming with activity again. The annual missionary conference is in session and some hundreds of visitors are in the borough to attend. Traffic conditions on the streets were such on Saturday night that two officers were in service directing traffic near the scene of the conference sessions.

While the drought has been in existence it appears that the annual mosquito crop has been hard hit. There are few mosquitos to be noted in this locality this year.

Grass fires are becoming more numerous in this city and county. Every care should be taken by every citizen to prevent starting a fire in the fields or woods. No one can tell what the result of a fire will be, as it spreads rapidly.

CHILLING BREEZES CHASE HEAT WAVE

(International News Service)

After weeks of sizzling temperatures which caused death, property damage and serious discomfort to Pennsylvania, topcoats and vests were hastily extracted from summer storage today in many sections of the state and donned to ward off the chilling breezes which arrived over the week end.

Early today temperatures in all sections of the state ranged lower in contrast to the record-breaking ranges of the mercury during the last several weeks.

No rain was in sight for the state today according to official United States weather prognosticators although they cheerfully predicted the cool weather would remain at least another day.

The first leg of the journey, from Tacoma to White Horse is approximately 1,200 miles.

Before taking off yesterday at the Tacoma airport, Wark stated that the present refueling light was in preparation for a non-stop flight across the Pacific to the Japanese capital to be made next summer.

Temperature Drops 20 Degrees Sunday

Cool Breezes Make Coats Popular During Day; Blankets During Night

Cooling breezes, coupled with a 20 degree drop in temperature, caused many people to don their coats Sunday to escape actual discomfort and blankets were a necessity last night, a decided contrast from Saturday.

The maximum temperature Sunday was 76 degrees, and after the sun went down, it was too cold to sit around outside without wraps for the majority of people. Saturday while not excessively hot, produced a maximum temperature of 95 degrees. The minimum temperature last night was 46 degrees.

There was no rainfall, however, in spite of the prediction of showers over the week end, and in many churches Sunday, prayers were offered for speedy relief from the drought.

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—Thousands jammed Toronto's streets today waiting the arrival of the British, R-100 which was scheduled to fly over the city this morning. Later she will sail over the Hamilton and the Niagara peninsula.

ACCIDENTAL SHOT KILLS SMALL GIRL

Gun In Hands Of Father Is Discharged—Bullet Strikes Daughter

Tragic Accident Occurs In Seventh Ward On Sunday Afternoon

Accidentally shot in the breast by a bullet from a gun in the hands of her father, little Louise Cepro, aged 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cepro, 214 South Liberty street, died early Sunday afternoon in the New Castle hospital, from the effects of the wound.

Death was due to the loss of blood, the bullet severing a large artery on its course through the body of the little victim, causing her to bleed to death.

Coroner Investigates

Coroner J. P. Caldwell who was summoned, after making a thorough investigation, found that death was due to an accidental cause. As a result the authorities took no action against the father of the little girl.

Police received a call about 1:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon telling of the shooting of a little girl at 214 South Liberty street. Officers Thomas Lynch, Charles Longstreth and Ralph Criswell answered the call.

The officers on their arrival found that the child had been removed to the New Castle hospital and hurried there.

The father gave a statement to the police following the death of the little girl, in which it was shown that the shooting was entirely accidental.

Was Removing Shells

The father stated that he had been in the kitchen of the home as was his little daughter. He went to a small drawer in the cupboard in which there were two revolvers. He took out a twenty-five calibre automatic revolver from the drawer and proceeded to take out the shells.

Thinking that all the loaded shells

East New Castle Home Is Saved By City Firemen

Quick Response To Telephone Call Results In Serious Blaze Being Averted

Quick response by city firemen to a telephone call from East New Castle at 1:15 this afternoon resulted in a serious conflagration being averted. They were successful in extinguishing a fire in the home of John Schutz, with a loss of $200, which had it gotten a good start might have wiped out the entire corner at East New Castle.

The blaze was discovered by members of the family, who secured buckets and formed a bucket brigade in the meantime. John T. Brinton, who resides next door, noticed the smoke and sent in a call to Fire Chief Lynn for assistance.

A ladder was procured and workmen employed in constructing a gas line past the property, went up onto the roof of the kitchen, where the blaze originated, and succeeded in holding it in check until the fire truck and Chief Lynn arrived.

There are a half dozen houses between the Harmony crossing and the cross roads at East New Castle, which would have undoubtedly been destroyed had the blaze gotten away from the control of the firemen.

The property is owned by Lawrence Mersheimer and is covered by insurance, it was stated.

The blaze originated in a waste paper basket in the kitchen, into which some of the members of the Schutz family are believed to have dropped a match which had not been extinguished.

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Aug. 11.—I see where one of those young boy tree sitters has just passed his 500 hours sitting in a tree top.

There is a good deal of discussion as to what to do with a civilization that produces prodigies like that. Why wouldn't it be a good idea to take their ladder away from them and leave 'em up there.

Pretty near all of us out here in California during these hard times are selling our homes, and they tear 'em down and put in these premature golf courses.

You can't sell for much. But they give you a free ticket to play. The jails are putting 'em in now to get prisoners' minds off moping.

Plan Appeal For Dague And Irene

Case of Pair Sentenced To Die To Be Carried To Highest Court

EXPECT TO START ACTION THIS WEEK

While the law allows a defendant 21 days to appeal a verdict of first degree murder to the State Supreme Court, it is probable that the appeal in the case of Irene Schroeder and Glenn Dague will be made within the next ten days.

Attorney Thomas W. Dickey, counsel for the pair who were sentenced to death on Saturday for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul, said today that plans were under way by him and Attorney Benjamin Jarrett to appeal to the Supreme Court.

If the appeal is made within the next ten days as it appears it will, the appeal will be heard by the Supreme Court in its Pittsburgh session commencing September 29th. The fact that the court is in Pittsburgh at that time will be a convenience to the attorneys both for the commonwealth and the defense.

Should the State Supreme Court refuse to review the case, or refuse a new trial, the only step left for the defendants will be the pardon board.

There's a sense of satisfaction in your little trundle bed, it's a spot for solid comfort but when all is done and said, and you're talking of real comfort, and where sleep is long and sweet, there's a place I know much nicer, has your own home pillow beat. Take a cot that's made of canvas, and some blankets three or four, and sleep out in some thick forest, that's the place to really snore. Where the silence isn't broken, save where brooks caress the rocks, or at times you hear the shrill, tenor barking of a fox. Where the trees are tall and stilly, and the world seems all at rest, that's the place to sleep in earnest, that's the place I love the best, you can sleep sans interruption, you can yawn or roll and snore, and the neighbors never bother, weather's cooler, eighty four.

Reeves To Have Sprays Installed

Model Is Now Being Manufactured And Will Be Given Trial

CITY FIREMEN TO HAVE CHARGE

Councilman Clayton Reeves hopes to make good his intention of providing water sprays for the children in the sections of the city where fire stations are located. Should it be possible to make suitable sprays they will be erected, water will gush forth and sprinkle over the children on hot days.

The councilman stated that he had communicated with the New Castle Water company and a model is now being built. It will be tried out and if it works satisfactorily other sprays will be manufactured.

He said that city firemen would be in charge of the sprays, turn them on and off at certain periods. The firemen will have charge so that there will be no waste of water.

While in conference with the local water company officials Reeves reports that they told him the company so far has experienced no shortage of water.

The Hinkson family has just arrived in the city, hoping to settle permanently. Mr. Hinkson left his wife and two children at the depot while he hurriedly scoured around the section of the city not far away, looking for a suitable furnished apartment to which to take them. Luckily, in only the third building he came to he found a desirable apartment on the third floor of the building.

An hour later Mr. and Mrs. Hinkson and their two children were comfortable in their new home.

But three days later, during the middle of the day, a fire broke out in the apartment and Mrs. Hinkson, and both of their children were smothered to death.

Now in the new city to which the Hinksons have moved there was an ordinance providing that every building three stories or more in height be equipped with a fire escape and a ladder leading to an opening in the roof. But this building in which the Hinksons had taken an apartment was not so provided, and no the bereaved husband, soon after his great sorrow had somewhat retreated from him, filed suit for the loss of his entire family. At the trial, the landlord argued that when Mr. Hinkson rented the apartment he knew, or could have discovered, that there was no fire escape and ladder there, and so Mr. Hinkson thereby took the risk upon himself.

How would you decide this case? Mark your mind before you read the decision.

Last evening, an airplane swooped down over the vicinity of North Mercer and Wallace avenue to a height of only a few hundred feet and seemed to skim the top of the trees. This is sort of Old Home Week for New Castle. Announcement that the Japanese beetle has been found here is a matter of grave concern. Every effort possible should be made to exterminate this pest and prevent it getting a foothold in Lawrence county. Barney Hoon, about 10 years old, gave spectators an example of swimming yesterday at Wilmington Junction when he dove, clothes and all from the diving board into the pool and swam across. His brother Eddie, is an accredited life-saver at Ben Franklin school.

STAR LORE THE WEATHER WITHIN A CYCLONE

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter.

The area of low barometric pressure known as the cyclone that is from 500 to 2,000 miles in diameter receives air from along the ground ascending spirals, blowing toward its central axis in counter clockwise direction. The air pressure is lowest at the center, 20 inches of a column of mercury, or less. The southeast quadrant is the cloudy area, the area where humidity is greatest, and where storms usually develop. The north-west quadrant is usually the clear part of the cyclone. The cyclone itself is oval in form, the greatest diameter being from northwest to southeast. The weather bureau speaks of the entire low as a disturbance.

OLD TIMERS READY TO MEET WEDNESDAY

It is planned on Wednesday afternoon, near the dancing pavilion, between the hours of two and three o'clock. This surprise is in the nature of a relic, secured from the estate of the late Judge Lawrence L. McGuffin, consists of a minute book of the Mercer County Lyceum, an organization of the young men of this city of nearly a hundred years ago.

The first date in the book is January 9, 1837 and records the happenings of meetings of that organization, which included the forebears of a very considerable number of the present old timers, in its membership, during the year 1837.

Problems of Day Similar. The surprise that it will occasion most people examining it on Old Timers Day, will be the question debated in that faraway time and the fact that the problems of these days, were not a great deal different from those of the present.

A few names from the list of approximately a hundred members will make the value of the book more appreciated. In the list is found John Brewster, L. V. Cripps, Joseph T. DuShane, John M. Ewer, Henry F. DuShane, John Hewitt, Joseph Justice, Joseph Kissick, G. C. Morgan, George Pearson, J. S. Quest, Dr. William Shaw Jr., J. C. White, Otis Young. There are plenty of other familiar names of the district to be seen.

As the minutes of the first meeting tells of the revising and amending of the constitution, there is every indication that the organization had been in existence for several years. The question arises as to where the previous minute book or books might be. It is hoped that it may appear at the Old Timers Reunion for comparison.

Two of the many live topics which seem to have a present day appeal, which were discussed in that year, "Should the law of Pennsylvania authorizing capital punishment be repealed?" and "Ought the law granting license to tavern keepers to let ardent spirits be repealed in Pennsylvania?" It will be one of the big attractions of the day and well worth seeing.

A party of young folks including Elizabeth McDermott, Helen Sheridan, Louise McGonigle, Bernard Rowan, Bradley McGonigle and Hugh Waters, motored to Brady Lake Sunday and spent the day.

easy matter. The safe had been turned at an angle giving the safe cracker better light to work by. Everything points to the thief being an expert in the forcing of safes.

Safe On First Floor

The safe is located in the office on the first floor and a little over half way toward the back of the store and at the south side of the building. Ordinarily in daylight especially, it would have been possible for the passerby to see what was going on.

However in the afternoon, owing to the glare of the sun, it is impossible to see what is going on in the office except by making a special effort and that is the probable reason that the thief finished the work unmolested.

It has been established to the satisfaction of the owners and the police that the robbery occurred between 1:30 p. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday.

At one o'clock, a man associated with the concern, was in the store and passed the office and everything was all right. At 1:30 o'clock, another person associated with the concern, was in and while no special attention was paid to the office, there was nothing about the place to attract his attention.

The city police are being assisted in the effort to solve the robbery by members of the Pennsylvania State Police.

Chief of Police C. C. Horner stated this morning that while there were people who had been in the place Sunday afternoon about one and 1:30 o'clock, it was his opinion that it might have been possible for these people to have been in and not noticed the fact that the safe had been tampered with. It is possible, according to the chief, that the job was done some time early Sunday morning.

This morning E. T. Denton, finger print expert, and Samuel May, of the state police force from the Butler barracks, arrived here and made a complete and thorough inspection of the safe. A number of finger prints were found and photographed and this may lead to the apprehension of the person or persons responsible for the job. They were called here by the New Castle police authorities.

Rev. W. H. Armstrong, pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist church of this city with about 25 or 30 families of his congregation will leave Tuesday morning for Stoneboro, where they will participate in the camp meeting held annual by the Wesleyan Methodists in that place.

Lack Of Quorum In City Council

Today Mayor Gillespie and Councilman Reeves had the councilman roll called, announced lack of a quorum and adjourned until Friday afternoon when he back by Friday a session will be held.

Short Circuit Is Cause Of Alarm

An alarm was sounded from box 25 at the diamond Sunday morning, because of a small blaze in the car of Dr. H. M. Allison.

A short circuit had ignited the wiring between the battery and the horn. Someone called central department, stating there was a fire on the diamond after which they hurried up. Box 25 was pulled, which would not have been necessary had the informant told what kind of a fire it was. Firemen disengaged the wires. The damage amounted to approximately $10.

Grass Fire Is Cause Of Alarm

Firemen from No. 2 department were called to extinguish a grass fire on a vacant lot owned by the C. Ed. Smith estate at Highland and Elizabeth street, Sunday afternoon.

Someone had called Central station about fire and No. 2 department was dispatched to the scene. Before they arrived, an alarm was turned in from Box 29. The blaze was of little consequence, firemen found, an surrounding property was not endangered.

Reeves Dam Is To Be Completed Today

Reapportionment Row In Congress Due This Winter

Nine States Will Gain New Members In House Of Representatives

Expect Tough Battle Before
Reapportionment Is Finally Put Through

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Congress faces another battle next winter over reapportionment of the national house of representatives as a result of publication of official census figures showing an even greater drift of population to industrial areas than had been anticipated.

Under the present reapportionment law, enacted after a hard fight, congress must divide 435 representatives among the various states next winter, or the secretary of commerce will make the reapportionment.

The method of apportioning members—known as the major fraction method—is admittedly more favorable to the larger states than other methods considered.

Pacing the loss of many seats in the house, representatives from agricultural states are expected to conduct campaign to change the method of reapportionment to the "equal proportions" plan and also to increase the house membership.

Nine States Gain.
Nine states will gain members in the house, it is indicated by the census bureau figures. These figures, it is emphasized, are subject to further revision.

The states which may gain and the number of additional representatives they will have are: Florida, one; California, 9; Connecticut, one; Michigan, 4; Texas, 3; Ohio, 3; New Jersey, 2; North Carolina, one; New York, 2.

States which may lose are: Alabama, Indiana, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Minnesota, Mississippi, Nebraska, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Vermont, Virginia and Massachusetts, one each; Missouri 3 or 4; Georgia, 2; Iowa, 2; Kentucky, 2.

The chief gains, it appears, will go to cities and industrial sections. California gains nine members, but the greatest growth has been in the Los Angeles area of the southern part of the state.

Additional congressmen will be apportioned to New York, New Jersey and Connecticut, in New York city and in its adjacent territory in Connecticut and New Jersey.

Michigan gains from its remarkable industrial development, as does North Carolina. The growth of Texas and Florida is declared to represent both an added rural and city population.

The greatest losses in representatives in congress will be borne by the agricultural regions of the midwest and south.

OLD TIMERS' DAY

Aug. 8, 1930.

The New Castle News:

Through the kindness of Mrs. Scott Hamilton an invitation has just reached me to attend the "Old Timers Picnic" August 13. This is an undertaking that is worth while, and the persons who have engineered this proposition and are carrying it to a successful conclusion are to be congratulated. I am glad to be remembered with the "Old Timers." Four of the most pleasant years of my life were spent as a teacher in Volant College from 1892 to 1896. While there I had the opportunity of becoming acquainted with many people in New Castle and Lawrence County whose friendships are treasured.

We had an unusually excellent body of students at Volant. It was a small institution but it was one of those rather rare places where heart strings held students and teachers together.

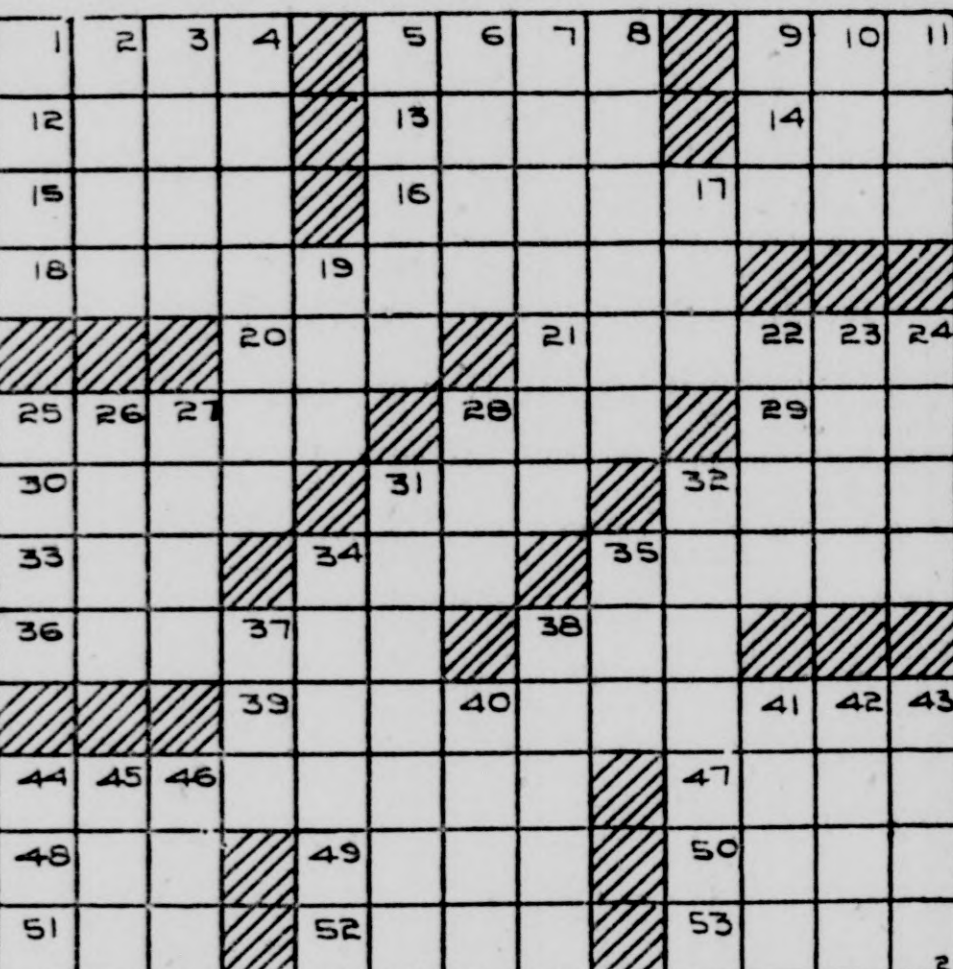

While duties and destinies have scattered the group, the friendships and good fellowships formed there can never be broken. An unusually large percentage of that student body are contributing with distinction to the great world work. There are Judge Jim Chambers, Atty. John Sackhart, Dr. Stuart Jordan, Dr. Jesse Grim, Dr. H. C. Mitchell, Prof. Harry Holmes, head of the chemistry department of Oberlin College, Rev. Robert Skinner, Rev. Clarence Houk, Alex. McNahy, Milt Houk, George Patterson, Mrs. Scott Hamilton, Grace Elder, Frances Murphy and a host of others of New Castle and Lawrence county.

It is very meet and proper to arrange the "Old Timers" day. It will be a great home coming. What marvelous changes have taken place, what undreamed of advances and discoveries have been made in the past forty years. With confidence this generation looks forward to the realization of the new millennium as it unfolds into the reality of the next generation. May the day be a perfect one, and may every anticipation of a gala occasion be realized. Praise be to those who have labored so unselfishly in arranging for this home coming event.

Peter's Adventures

BY FLORENCE VINCENT

QUEEN ANT BITES THE DUST

Worker Ant had not sooner finished telling Peter the sad story of the foolish Queen Ant who strayed from home than the boy noticed a dark cloud rising at the side of the path. Who could be kicking up all the dust? Peter ran forward to find out. Worker Ant scuttling behind him, crying as she came:

"Get you a blackberry 'tis Queen Ant building a new hill."

Maybe worker Ant was right, but at first sight Peter could see nothing in the least royal about the grubby little insect half buried in a hole, digging up mounds of dirt with her fore feet and scattering them with her hind legs. Queen Ant (if Queen Ant it was) took no notice whatever of the new comers, but went right on grubbing and Peter, watching closely, noticed that she bit into the earth with her jaws. Deeper and deeper grew the hole. Before long Queen Ant found it impossible to kick the dirt over the top, and was forced to scramble out of the hole with her load. Soon Queen Ant made up her mind that she was wasting time and promptly dug a passageway for herself through the bank. Then how fast she worked! Back and forth, back and forth! And on every trip from the hole out. Queen Ant carried soil.

What was Queen Ant doing now? It looked to Peter as though she was biting off chunks of dirt more than she could chew, and rolling them into balls with her feet. Before Peter could cry "Jack Robinson" that clever insect had laid these little chunks of dirt, as cornerstones of her new ant-hill.

First Queen Ant built the front hall. Then she went to work on the inner rooms. Next she started in on the pantry. At least her skillful claws fashioned a nursery shaped like a full moon.

ALL NEIGHBORS

A Liverpool preacher speaking in St. John's Cathedral, New York, tells us the world is so small now that we are all neighbors. Transportation and news communication have done that. It is always more or less difficult to get along with neighbors. We carry a greater responsibility than ever for our behavior now that we all live so close together. In the early days a man could live pretty much by and for himself. It can't be done now.

One wonders if the well known world is going a little crazy.

Court Passes Sentences On Some Prisoners

Two Of Prisoners Are Held Pending Further Investigation

DRUNKEN DRIVER GIVEN JAIL TERM

Sentence court was held today before Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand with a class of prisoners passing in review before his honor for the time they were to serve in explanation of their various and sundry misdeeds.

Steve Kosky was at the head of the line and drew a fine of $25.00 and costs, plus 3 months in the county jail for adultery, to which he pleaded guilty.

George Koscovitch couldn't understand English when questioned about his plea of guilty to a charge of manufacturing and possession of liquor and he was sent back to jail until an investigation could be made of his case.

Claims Self Defense
Mildred Blue, a dusky damsel of comfortable proportions pleaded guilty to a charge of felonious assault and battery. Mildred, it seemed, had gotten into an argument with a gentleman of color some time ago and in defense of her life, she said, she picked up a knife and went to work.

Her carving was of both plain and fancy varieties and the carver went to the hospital with a knife stab in his lungs and for a time it was thought that he would pass on. "I had to defend myself," said Mildred to the judge. "He was a number writer and all I did was tell him that a girl wanted to see him. He knocked me down and kicked me in the stomach and I had to defend myself."

At the mention of number writing Judge Hildebrand said "I trust the district attorney is taking notice of the fact that we seem to be getting into the class of Pittsburgh. They had a murder down there rising out of these number writers."

Mildred insisted so vehemently that she had acted in self defense that the court finally said that she should have the case placed before a jury. She was taken back to jail.

Five Months
Joseph Murray, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. He was fined $200.00 and costs, and sentenced to five months in the county jail, to be released at the end of 45 days if the fine is paid.

Harry Gross was placed upon probation for two years for driving a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner. Fred Gouldie was fined $25.00 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the Lawrence county jail for cheating and defrauding a boarding housekeeper.

Andy Speer pleaded guilty to possession of a small amount of liquor and drew a fine of $100.00 and costs and thirty days in the Lawrence county jail.

William Sanderson who escaped while acting as a trustee in the Lawrence county jail some weeks ago was brought into court by Sheriff Johnson and was to be sentenced for breach of prison. He was sent back to jail until a later date when his case will be disposed of.

the shipment of their machine back to this city and were planning to continue their journey home by train. They were in the railroad station at Omaha in the act of purchasing tickets for New Castle, when he was stricken, dying but a short space of time afterwards.

The life of former Judge William E. Porter was one of intense activity in matters of public concern. A Democrat in politics, he always took an active part in the affairs of his party in the city and county and this in turn brought him into prominence in the affairs of his party throughout the state. He was equally active in civic affairs of all kinds and was always found active in those things which were for the betterment and uplift of the entire community. He was an active member of the First United Presbyterian church with which he was affiliated a greater part of his life.

Notable Record
Probably the outstanding event of his life, was his decision in 1911, after five years on the bench, by which he refused all liquor licenses in Lawrence county, making it the first dry county of the state to enter the dry column, prior to war time prohibition. He continued consistently for the balance of his term as president judge of Lawrence county, six years in all, to refuse licenses for the sale of liquor. He was president judge of Lawrence county for a matter of eleven years, his term being automatically extended a year, due to a change in the constitution placing the elec-

Arrest Youth On Serious Charge
(Special To The News)
MERCER, Pa., Aug. 11.—William Williams, 24, is in the county jail here, having waived a hearing for October court term.

He is charged with an attempt to attack 12-year-old Virginia Percy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Percy, Saturday night at the Percy home.

Williams and other boys visited the Percy home early in the evening. Some left and it was presumed he had left.

They later returned and Williams, it is alleged, was found to have been in the child's bedroom.

tion of judges on a non-partisan basis.

In 1926 due to his prominence in the affairs of the state organization of the Democratic party and his record while a judge, as an exponent of temperance, he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, being linked up in his candidacy with Hon. William B. Wilson, secretary of labor in President Wilson's cabinet.

In his acts as president judge, Judge Porter was held in high esteem not only by the members of the bar but by all the people of the district. His acts were based on the highest and purest of standards and his chief anxiety in the conduct of the affairs of his office, was a determined effort to get done those things, which he felt was right. His work as a jurist was of the highest rank, as was indicated by the fact that in a very few instances, where cases under his jurisdiction were carried to higher courts, was reversed.

Born In Wilmington
Judge Porter was born in Wilmington Township, Mercer county, near New Wilmington, December 15, 1867, the son of Thomas B. and Margaret J. Porter, members of one of the older and better known families of this section of the country.

After receiving his earlier education in the public schools of the district in which he resided, he matriculated in Westminster College, from which institution, he graduated in June 1889. Following his graduation, he taught school in his native township for one term and for a like period in the schools of Neshannock township.

In the meantime, he continued his preparation for the legal profession under the late James A. Gardner, solicitor of New Castle and the late Attorney James M. Martin. He was admitted to the bar of Lawrence county and to the practice of his chosen profession, January 23, 1893.

After his admission to the practice of law, he continued with marked success, while at the same time, taking an active part in the civic and business affairs of his district.

In 1900, he was elected as a member of the Select council from the third ward, in which position, he continued until April 1904. During the last two years of his term as select councilman, he served as president of that body.

In 1894, he had been elected secretary of the People's Mutual Building and Loan Association, in which capacity he continued until December, 1904, when he had been elevated to the position of president judge of Lawrence county, the Fifty-Third Judicial District of the State of Pennsylvania. He was elected as judge in November 1904 and assumed his duties as such in January 1905.

He was united in marriage on March 28, 1893 to Miss Ina H. Shoaff, daughter of George and Margaret Shoaff.

He was a member of the First United Presbyterian church and of Mahoning Lodge No. 243 F. & A. M. and the New Castle Consistory.

John Rust of Mercer county, a brother-in-law, left Sunday for Chicago, where he will meet Mrs. Porter and accompany her and the body of the former judge to this city. The funeral party will arrive in this city over the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie some time Monday evening.

Judge Porter is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ina H. Shoaff Porter, one daughter, Mrs. Edwin Mackey, three sisters, Mrs. Nannie Rankin of Sharon, Mrs. John Rust and Mrs. Frank Hoagland, both of Mercer county, and two brothers, Joseph and Melvin Porter of Mercer county.

The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Gang Of Negroes Injure Two Men
Pittsburgh District Scene Of Disorder As Negroes Attack Two White Men

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 11.—Two white men were attacked and seriously injured early today by a gang of negroes as a climax to ill feeling between white and negro residents in the Larimer avenue district.

Gilbert Davage, 22, and Theodore Kohlet, 24, were the victims. Davage is reported suffering a fractured skull and severe stab wounds in the body. Kohlet was stabbed in the neck.

Last Sunday crowds of negroes and whites rioted near the new Larimer avenue swimming pool after several white persons had protested against allowing negroes to use the pool with them. Davage and Kohlet were attacked by six negroes, police said, while walking in Paulson avenue. Razors and knives were used freely, according to police, who found the two men lying on the sidewalk.

No arrests were made.

Davis, where it was found that her nose had been injured but that it was not serious.

Must Fly Above Clouds To Really Cool Off
Want to keep cool on a hot day? Then fly above the clouds. Asked how aviators keep away from the hot weather, D. Roy Bradford, operator of Bradford field on the Youngstown road, laughed and said that it is often hard even for aviators to avoid the hot spell. He cited an example.

When Bradford and his pilot, Raymond J. Merritt, took part in the transcontinental air derby in 1928 and flew their monoplane, "Tin City Rooker," at a height of 13,800 feet, over Arizona they found that it wasn't so cool even at such a height. At that time, Bradford asserts, the clouds were 10,000 feet high. Both men were without their hats or coats. When they were forced down at Yuma, Ariz., the temperature was 120 degrees above zero, and, as Bradford says:

"We were nearly baked."

Bradford, pilots and mechanics at the local airport declare that a person could cool off here by flying about 2,000 feet above the ground.

DROUGHT RELIEF PROGRAM PLANS GOING FORWARD

devoting much time to its consideration with Secretary of Agriculture Hyde and Vice Chairman James C. Stone of the Federal Farm Board.

Hyde expected to be able to present an accurate picture of the present situation to the President during the day, in a compilation of reports of 2,000 county agents and the official August crop report of the Department of Agriculture.

Governors To Confer
With a conference of 12 governors called for Thursday and a general plan of cooperative aid outlined similar to the President's Mississippi river flood relief program, further definite action was to await the gubernatorial gathering.

All governors or representatives are expected to come. It was said at the White House, although Governor Weaver of Nebraska indicated in a statement at Lincoln he might decline as he didn't want to advertise Nebraska as drought-stricken.

Several railroads, it was reported, will file with the Interstate Commerce Commission new reduced rates on hay, livestock and water, with a view of halting the rush of livestock to market. In some cases cattle will be transported out of the drought-stricken area, and in others feed will be imported.

The Department of Agriculture's monthly crop estimate is due late today. This forecast may not reflect the full extent of the damage, because it will be as of August 1, and the drought and heat have been particularly severe since.

Congress probably will provide additional credit facilities for farmers through the intermediate credit banks. One step may be to authorize redempting of this year's farm paper at the credit banks, so that the local banks can handle local credit demands next year.

"The drought is very serious and widespread and a trip through the devastated sections will reveal conditions not experienced in our lifetime," observed Senator Fess (R) of Ohio, the newly elected Republican national chairman. "Emergency measures will be taken and the federal government will co-operate with the various states to relieve the inevitable suffering. What means will be taken remain to be worked out through the states by consultation between state and federal authorities."

The President's extremely anxious over the problem. It has been thought that while the drought is not so spectacular, it is fully as serious as the Mississippi flood and relief cannot wait for Congress to convene. Anything the administration undertakes will be strongly supported by Congress.

Plan Is Approved
Washington, Aug. 11.—The program of the Hoover administration to combine federal and state relief for drought-stricken areas met with hearty endorsement on Capitol Hill today. The President's summoning of governors here for a conference Thursday and the reduction of freight rates on agricultural products in the stricken farm regions were approved by congressional leaders. It was certain that Congress would support with legislation next fall any relief measures now undertaken by the government.

One of the greatest problems facing solution, it was said, would be the financing of farmers next year, since the drought has destroyed their credit this summer. Huge loans, it was said, where on the basis of this year's crops with the likelihood that small banks will have to carry this paper for another year, seriously undermining farm credits next spring.

Some congressional leaders believe the first act of Congress when it returns will be to provide cheap loans for farmers in the stricken areas so they may finance themselves next season. Feed, cattle and seed loans undoubtedly will be authorized, following the precedent established when Congress appropriated millions to purchase like items for farmers in the flood-stricken sections in the Mississippi area and the south Atlantic coast.

Forfeiture Of Beer Is Asked
(International News Service)
SUNBURY, Pa., Aug. 11.—Forfeiture of 1,443 kegs of beer, seized in several freight cars in Scranton and Wilkes-Barre recently, was to be asked in U. S. district court here today by Assistant U. S. Attorney H. F. Reich.

The brew, valued at $30,000, came from New Jersey and was consigned to various fictional companies in the hard coal region.

When seized the beer was labeled as "salted hides," "liquid soap," "canned goods," and, according to dry agents, most truthful designation, "disinfectant."

Lovesickness?
Lovesickness isn't insanity, Miss Tyne Nimit, above, reasons. That's why she has used Leslie Buswell, wealthy amateur theatrical producer of Gloucester, Mass., her former employer, for $50,000. She charges he had her committed to an insane asylum because she refused to spurn the attentions of a famous musician guest of Buswell's. After 35 days physicians declared that she was "merely lovesick," according to the girl's story.

DRUNK PREVENTED FROM DRIVING CAR
This morning about 12:45 o'clock, Officer Wallace saw T. H. Perrill, evidently from Ohio, trying to get into a machine parked on South Jefferson street. Perrill was drunk and in no condition to operate the car, which bore Ohio license 114-473 and which the officer found to be his. He was taken to the city jail and charged with being drunk. He was released on a $10 fine when he sobered up and did not return for his money.

Metz of 619 Euna street, ran out into the street into the side of his car and knocked to the street. She was taken to the office of Dr. M. Davis, where it was found that her nose had been injured but that it was not serious.

SEEKS CREW FOR ATLANTIC HOP

Just as soon as Ted S. Lundgren, Hollywood aviator and former army flying instructor, finds a pilot and radio man to accompany him, he plans to hop off from New York for Europe. Photos show the ship and Lundgren, in Los Angeles, just before his transcontinental flight.

Must Fly Above Clouds To Really Cool Off

Want to keep cool on a hot day? Then fly above the clouds. Asked how aviators keep away from the hot weather, D. Roy Bradford, operator of Bradford field on the Youngstown road, laughed and said that it is often hard even for aviators to avoid the hot spell. He cited an example.

When Bradford and his pilot, Raymond J. Merritt, took part in the transcontinental air derby in 1928 and flew their monoplane, "Tin City Rooker," at a height of 13,800 feet, over Arizona they found that it wasn't so cool even at such a height. At that time, Bradford asserts, the clouds were 10,000 feet high. Both men were without their hats or coats. When they were forced down at Yuma, Ariz., the temperature was 120 degrees above zero, and, as Bradford says:

"We were nearly baked."

Bradford, pilots and mechanics at the local airport declare that a person could cool off here by flying about 2,000 feet above the ground.

Dog And Rabbit "Mothering" Peeps

Although it sounds rather unusual the fact remains that a police dog and a rabbit are "mothering" peeps here. The police dog is owned by Fred Purford and the rabbit belongs to John Riley. The former lives on Woodlawn avenue and Riley lives on the New Wilmington highway.

Purford's police dog is caring for a flock of the peeps while the rabbit owned by Riley has assumed charge of one.

Four girders, ten-foot eye bars valued at $320, were "lifted" from an auto wrecking plant.

New Woman Judge Gives Her Views Regarding Bench

Miss Sarah M. Soffel, Newly Appointed Judge In Allegheny County Interviewed

SAYS WOMEN HAVE JUDICIAL MINDS

By HERBERT CARL, International News Service Staff Correspondent
SOUTHWEST HARBOR, Me., Aug. 11.—"Do you think women judges can deal as fairly with women defendants as men judges?"
"Absolutely."
Miss Sarah M. Soffel, Pennsylvania's first woman judge, replied with a finality that left no shadow of doubt. There is no reason, she explained, why women should not have the same judicial attainments as men.
At the home of Mrs. E. L. Spurling, Miss Soffel found the first official notification of her appointment contained in a message from Governor John S. Fisher.

"I deeply appreciate the honor of the appointment to a bench which so closely touches the lives of men, women and children of our country," said Miss Soffel in a statement at Cranberry Isle. Her appointment was to the judgeship of the Allegheny County court, which handles a wide range of cases.

Women Efficient
"Do you think that women judges handle all types of cases as well as men judges?" Miss Soffel was asked.
"Women," she replied, "have the same requisites as men in judicial matters and have the same point of view as men."
"Do you think in time there will be all women judges in our country?"
Miss Soffel laughed. "No," she said. "It's not as bad as that."
"Are you in sympathy with the view expressed by a noted English writer that women are slowly supplanting men in the conduct of government af-

Return Old Deed To Seneca Tribe

Mercer County Man Loses Relic Through Decision Hand- ed Down By Court

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 11.—One of the most treasured possessions of the Seneca Indian tribe which links them with the day when they were nomads of all they surveyed is a deed written on sheep parchment signed by their chiefs, transferring for a nominal price in money a tract of land totaling thousands of acres to the "white men" who were pioneers settling the tract of land where the city of Erie is now located.

This deed by virtue of a legal transaction in this county returns to the Indians after a period of 100 years during which it has been in the possession of three men, the last owner to be Fred S. Fish of Farrell from whom the grant was obtained by J. E. Reed of Erie, who was voted one of the Seneca tribe and came here armed with a power of attorney. The deed, written in duplicate as was the vogue in the eighties, when it was penned, still retains its scarred edge where it was torn into two following the writing, each party retaining a deed. The Indian deed was kept for years by the chiefs in their wigwags.

A streak of hard luck is all that could have forced a sale to a neighboring white man who knew of the historic value of the instrument. It passed from this man to another finally becoming the property of Mr. Fish. These who saw the deed say that it is a remarkable document with its quaint English of that period and its scrawled signatures of the famous chiefs. It is said that the tract would cover not only Erie and surrounding territory but extend into New York state, embracing thousands of acres.

State Aids In Program Of Improving Secondary Roads With Ash And Slag

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 11.—Twenty miles of ash and slag road are being added to the county complement of 200 by the road building program of this summer which is reduced in mileage due to the state fund for this purpose being repositied.

But $12,000 was appropriated by the highway department for Mercer County in 1930. The roads are built on a basis state, county and township sharing the cost.

Of the 32 townships in the county two-thirds of them have an increased road tax over the customary ten mills. Half of them are in debt for roads already built.

This type of construction costs $3000 a mile at a minimum and $6000 maximum on the average.

Soviets Extend American Firms Healthy Business

Orders For $40,500,000 For Machines Placed With American Firms By Soviets

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Orders for agricultural machinery to cost $40,500,000 have been placed on behalf of the Soviet collective and state farms with American firms, it was announced today.

About 85 per cent of the Soviet order is for tractors which will be used in the 1931 spring planting. Shipments will start in November and will be finished in February, 1931.

The orders were the largest ever placed for the same period of time for farm machinery, according to M. Kalmanovich, vice-commissioner for agriculture, who came to the United States to arrange the shipments.

P. A. Bogdanov, chairman of the Amtorg Trading Corporation, Soviet Commercial agency, through which the orders were placed, said he considered the purchase "of such a large quantity of agricultural machinery for the Soviet union a significant event in Soviet-American trade relations." He said economic conditions in the Soviet union warranted a considerable development of purchases.

New Castle Committee Visits Mount Gretna; Awd By Troop F Work

(Special to The News)
CAMP STEWART, MT. GRETTA, Pa. Aug. 11.—New Castle's Citizens' Military Committee arrived here for the week-end to inspect Troop F, Pennsylvania National Guard and appeared much impressed with the showing of the New Castle outfit.

The following members of the committee came: L. B. Round, chairman; Russell Melvin, Maj. W. Fulton Jackson, Dental-Res. Capt. J. B. Brettel, Artillery-Res. 1st Lt. John Kennedy, Finance-Res.

These men, ever thoughtful of the comfort of the troop went to the Reick-McJunkin ice cream plant where Thomas Blake, manager had an ice cream treat ready and packed in dry ice for the New Castle boys. This delicious treat was sent to the troop with the compliments of the Reick-McJunkin Company of New Castle.

The committee reported several startling evidences of the nation wide drought while traveling across the state. They saw evidences of several forest fires some of which had been put completely under control and others that were still smoldering over large areas. At Everett, Pa., there was a large fire on the main thoroughfare and through towns were being routed through side streets.

There was also a forest fire noticed at Camp Hill, just outside of Harrisburg and in Harrisburg several companies of city firemen were battling flames in the residential section.

They reported that the drought seems to be exceptionally severe in the southeastern part of the state. The corn has been literally burnt black and the ears have not developed on the stunted stalks. Farmers were noticed plowing stubble in clouds of dust. Bridges were passed with the bed of the streams bone dry.

The committee arrived in camp just in time to witness Retreat. This they found to be most impressive and this beautiful formation bears at the heart strings of the man who has seen service under Old Glory.

After Retreat, mess was served and until this time the troop members were unaware of the thoughtfulness of the Committee and the kindness of the Reick-McJunkin Company of New Castle.

Castle in making it possible to serve a large portion of delicious ice cream in excellent condition to every member of the troop.

After mess the Committee visited Headquarters, 103rd Cavalry, where they met many of the field and staff officers. Here they received innumerable commendatory reports about the New Castle troop. The staff officers were loud in their praise for the remarkable improvement shown by Troop F in the last few months under the present Commanding Officer, 1st Lt. Harvey G. Bintrim. The Committee found, after a thorough inspection of the kitchen and mess hall, that the troop members were eating good food, that is well prepared. While the troopers are working very hard, the outdoor work is beneficial to the men and the men also realize that they are working for the interests of New Castle as well as for themselves.

The Committee members believe that Troop F is destined to be one of the leading organizations in the Pennsylvania National Guard with a personnel, second to none. The troopers are representing New Castle in a most acceptable manner.

The Committee noted the many congratulatory telegrams the troop has received while in camp and this evidence of awakened interest in the troop is highly appreciated by the Committee and by the officers and men of the troop.

All members of the Committee were introduced to the Division Commander, General William G. Price, by the Commanding Officer of the 103rd Cavalry, Colonel Justice C. Colahan of Philadelphia. The Colonel expressed his gratification of the splendid showing of Troop F to the Committee.

The entire 103rd Cavalry was inspected. The field inspection was held with the full mounted pack displayed and, at the same time, a bunk inspection was being held in the Regimental streets. Major W. Fulton Jackson and Captain J. B. Brettel stated that, in their opinion, the results of the Saturday morning Review of the 103rd Cavalry were as follows:

Troop F led in the walk with Troop C a close second.

Troops F and L were about equal in the trot and these troops led all other troops of the Regiment.

In the gallop Troop F was in second place with the Machine Gun Troop leading the Regiment. In the gallop Troop F lost out because the 1st Platoon broke. The Machine Rifle Platoon and the 2nd Platoon showed very good form.

The Machine Gun Troop had a slight edge in the Review over all other troops with Troop F a very close second.

Bo' Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Over near the Harlem River there's a little Chinese laundry with a red stucco facade. The proprietor's name is Jo Wing. He tells me he went to Yale. He has a wide, yellow-and-red striped awning, a cat and a canary, grows lilies in a blue bowl with pebbles, and the day I met up with him he was occupying a kitchen chair tilted back of the counter in his shop, smoking a cigarette and reading "The Dissenting Opinions of Mr. Justice Holmes."

SNOBISH CLERKS

It isn't pleasant to shop on Fifth avenue in the good old summertime. The clerks, while not discourteous, don't seem to be able to muster much respect for anyone who lingers in their town during the heated term. They look at you as much as to say: "If you really amounted to anything you wouldn't be here at this time of the year."

HAVE A HEART!

The weather bureau in New York is situated on top of a downtown skyscraper. Naturally it's cooler there than down on the street, with the asphalt drawing and holding the fire of the sun. When you're tramped through the city all day with the mercury sizzling somewhere around the century mark, it's disconcerting to pick up your morning newspaper and find that yesterday's "official" temperature was only 89.

It's all right to be optimistic about business conditions; but when the weather's hot, it's hot and there's no use in lying about it.

SPEAKING OF ART

The world's worst aggregation of statuary is to be found in Central Park. They've been there a long time. How some of them ever got there at all is a mystery. The funniest one of the bunch is that of Bobby Burns. He's squatted in an arm chair of heroic proportions, a wad of manuscript on his lap. His right mitt, dangling across the arm of the chair, clutches a quill. His head is thrown back, his mouth is open, his glance skewered on the celestial blue. The artist intended to convey a musing mood. What he's actually done is to feature Bobby in the act of a maternal goggle.

What an ad that statue would be for a mouth wash!

PUTTING ONE OVER

Some years ago Eugene Walter wrote a play that found favor in the eyes of a certain producer (now dead), famous for his vulpine tricks.

"I'll put the play on for you," said the producer, "but you'll have to change the character of the villain."

"What's the matter with the character?" inquired Gene.

"Nothing, except that it's so badly overdrawn it's preposterous. There never was such a character since the world began. In the entire range of human history there never existed such an impossible mixture of viciousness and stupidity. You'll have to re-write the part."

"What are you talking about?"

protested the ruffled scribe. I drew that character from life."

"You mean to tell me you actually knew such a man? Who in heaven's name was he?"

"Why, that's YOU," said Gene, dodging a cut-glass ink well, as he skidded in the direction of the elevator.

A collector of "nut" china traveled all over New York looking for an old-fashioned mustache cup, without success. Finally, some one told him of a little hardware and china dealer on Eighth avenue, who hadn't thrown anything away since Dewey took Manila.

The collector sought him out. The dealer was sorry, but he had only one such cup in the place, and it wasn't any good. He'd had it for twenty-five years without being able to sell it. He said:

"You remember when them cups was all stamped, 'Father and Grandpa?' Well, I got a batch 'o them—way back in nineteen five. They were all stamped right except this single cup. The manufacturer made a mistake and wrote 'Mother' on it. O' course, nobody wants a mustache cup with 'Mother' stamped on it in big gold letters."

"Oh, I'm not particular," said the collector. "Let me see it."

It was produced—a beauty of its kind.

listen to it POP!

"How much?" queried the collector. "Gimme fifteen cents an' we'll call it square," said the dealer.

Help The Adolescents Overcome Jealousies

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

We were visiting several years ago a family we had known for years. We had known the oldest child in that home since she was a little girl, and always thought of her as a lively, active and interesting child. At the time of our visit she was 16. She had a little brother of three.

Well, what did we do? As we entered that home we did what most people do, we found that had attractive, and we began talking to him. Adults don't seem to know how to act toward children. If we just follow our impulses we are generally wrong. We met the daughter. She just responded with few words and stood back, with nothing more to say.

Throughout the dinner hour the little lad was talkative. The father and the mother were much interested in their son and were not at all conscious of what was happening. When we went home that night we almost at the same time started to talk about the girl, wondering why she was so different. We concluded that the cause was jealousy. Her brother was everything, she was nothing.

A few years later this girl went away to college. She got along well, received some distinction in her classes, came back, was met by old friends. We saw that child on her vacation and a more attractive, charming personality. I think I never have seen. The difference was most wonderful! Why? She got more attention, almost no reminders of her inferiority; she felt she was somebody. She had got letters from home; she was succeeding, doing something

Compensation Board Dismisses Appeal

Award To Michael Donovan Is Allowed By State Board

(From News Bureau)
State Capital

HARRISBURG, Aug. 11.—Appeal of the Rieck-McJunkin Dairy Company New Castle, from an award of compensation to Michael Donovan, 936 Winslow avenue, New Castle, has been dismissed by the Workmen's Compensation Board. Donovan was allowed compensation from August 17, 1929 to September 16 and partial disability from that date to October 6.

The dairy company appealed the award claiming it had not been notified of the accident within forty-eight hours and that Donovan was able to resume work on September 16. In reviewing the case the board found there was evidence to show that notice had been served on the company of the injury within the prescribed time.

It was found that while Donovan went back to work on the September date he was given employment of a lighter nature.

Indians Prepare For Big Pageant

(International News Service)
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 11.—The population of half a hundred of the most noted Indian pueblos of North America already are gathering at Albuquerque for the third revival of their gigantic spectacle, "The First American," on August 19, 20, 21 and 22, and recognized as the greatest Indian show in the world.

During the festival the native arts, customs, sports and dances of the Indians hold sway. They camp in the foothills of the Sandia mountains, close to the city, and make a colorful sight which draws thousands of tourists.

The citizens of Albuquerque, itself a picturesque city, founded by the Spaniards in 1705 extend the necessary finances for the spectacle.

A mammoth permanent stage setting has been erected, representing a five-story pueblo, and lighting and heating accommodations have been provided.

Colorful and little known cross-sections of primitive American life will be revealed to the public during the four-day carnival.

There will be performances of "The First American," each night of the four days, with matinees three afternoons.

Ends Piles Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal medicine can remove the cause. That's why salves and cutting fail. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, removes this congestion and strengthens the affected parts.

HEM-ROID is now sold by druggists everywhere, and has such a wonderful record of success even in chronic and stubborn cases that McKee's or Eckerd's invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantees money-back if it does not end all Pile misery.

Bryan's Daughter, Mrs. Ruth B. Owen, May Become Second Woman Senator

By YANNER ALEXANDER, Central Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The one woman politician generally conceded by experienced Washington observers as having a better than even chance of following Mrs. Hanna McCormick to the Senate is a declared candidate for nothing save re-election to her seat in the Lower House.

After Mrs. McCormick's success in winning the Republican Senatorial nomination in Illinois two months ago a number of feminine politicians made known their intentions of emulating the famous daughter of Mark Hanna. Representative Ruth Bryan Owen, of Florida, however, kept steadily at work in her district, here in Washington and on the Chautauqua platform, where she treads the path worn by her father, the Great Commoner.

Mrs. Owen is regarded as being in a strategic position to succeed either one of the incumbent Senators from Florida if death, illness or inclination should provide a vacancy.

RUTH BRYAN OWEN.

CLOSE FRIEND OF SOLONS.

Maintaining close personal and political friendships with Senator Duncan U. Fletcher and Senator Park Trammell, and avoiding the slightest appearance of seeking the toga, Mrs. Owen will not say anything that might conceivably be twisted several years hence into a renunciation of senatorial aspirations.

In the meantime, any suggestion that her abilities are wasted in the lower House rouses the full powers of the gentlewoman from Florida. She says:

"When an individual is chosen by a quarter of a million of his fellow citizens as 'Representative' and, by virtue of this office, becomes the voice of the martinet and the defender of those whose condition places them in need of the special consideration of their government, his is a responsibility which not only calls for an accurate technique and a material efficiency, but one which places in the hands of the Representative a measure of the destinies of those who have expressed their trust in him by the ballot."

A DOUBLE JOB.

"I suggest that the function of the Representative in Congress is neither exclusively mouthpiece or leader, but a combining of these two functions in a carefully considered dual relationship, with a gradual trend. As the beginner in Congress becomes after years of service a senior member, and as relationship in confidence is built up through the years, there should be a gradual trend from spokesman only to a greater and greater degree of trusted leadership."

Of course, as the daughter of William Jennings Bryan, Mrs. Owen started her career with an hereditary predisposition toward politics. But again that might be cancelled on the ground that the bearer of a great name so rarely succeeds in the field that made the first bearer famous. The younger Pitt, in Great Britain, and John Quincy Adams, in this country, are the only political exceptions which come to mind.

Mrs. Owen remembers her interest being attracted to national development at the age of six when her father was in Congress, at eleven she

State Cavalymen Ready For Drills At Summer Camp

Annual Three-Day Road Work Practice Will Start Soon For National Guards

(International News Service)

CAMP STEWART, MT. GRETNA, Pa., Aug. 11.—Preparations were forward here today among cavalymen of the Pennsylvania National Guard for the annual three day road-work practice, which will begin tomorrow.

Equipment was being overhauled, tents rolled, saddles inspected and kits and arms were being polished in readiness for the road work, when cavalymen will leave the camp for distance maneuvers comparable to those under actual combat conditions.

Water carts of the guard today were supplying water to the village of Quentim, five miles from the reservation here. The village water supply became exhausted, and when Lieut. Col. William Hicks learned of the town's plight, he immediately ordered the guardsmen to aid the villagers.

A 300-gallon cart is being sent to Quentim daily and the town folks permitted to draw enough water to last 24 hours. It is the first time in history that the town's water supply failed.

Yesterday, the new colors of the 103rd cavalry were presented to the regiment by Gen. Shannon, commander of the 52nd Cavalry Brigade. Seven streamers, signifying campaigns in the Civil War, West Virginia in 1861, South Carolina in 1862, the Oise, Meuse, Argonne, Ypres, Lys, Champagne and Lorraine in the World War were presented.

Cavalymen yesterday went through a mounted field meet, holding a tug of war, wrestling and relay races on horseback.

According to the dictates of ancient British law, the secretary of state for home affairs must be present at the birth of a possible heir to the throne. That's why J. R. Clynes, above, has been staying at Glamis castle, Scotland, where the Duchess of York has awaited the arrival of her second child. Lord Asquith sat behind a screen in Queen Mary's room when the Prince of Wales was born. In former times the home secretary's presence was considered necessary to guard against fraudulent claims to the throne.

Nagel Family Meets At Fombell

History Of Family Is Given By Oldest Descendant And Officers Elected

The annual reunion of the Nagel family was held Saturday at the home of Sam Young, Fombell with about 125 descendants in attendance. Relatives were present from Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Butler, New Castle and other surrounding towns.

At noon the tables presented a beautiful sight, with huge baskets of garden flowers forming the centerpiece and the delicious food, which had been prepared by the women of the family. R. A. Nagel of Koppel invoked the blessing after which the assemblage "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" after which all members turned to the discussion of the elaborate repast.

After dinner speeches were enjoyed with William Nagel, aged 87, of Ellwood City, the oldest member present, giving an interesting history of the family and telling many tales the gathering has not known before. Mrs. Sara Musser, who is over 80 and Mrs. Elizabeth Reynolds, of New Castle then spoke most interestingly on different phases of the family life. The business meeting was next in order and the officers chosen for the coming year were president, J. E. Nagel of Ellwood City; vice president, George Nagel of Wurtenburg; secretary, Lillian Nevin of Fombell; treasurer, George W. Nagel of Ellwood.

City and historian, R. A. Nagel of New Castle.

The sports committee then took charge of the program and some interesting and novel stunts and games were indulged in with prizes being awarded the winners.

An interesting feature was the baby contest for the younger members and the prize for the youngest attendant was given Cecil Suber, Jr., son of Police officer and Mrs. Cecil Suber. The 1931 reunion will be held the second Saturday in August at the home of R. Nagel of Wurtenburg.

Famous German Flier Is Hurt In Auto Crash

Young Man Believed To Be Baron Koenig Von Warthausen, Injured In New York

MACHINE CRASHES INTO MILK WAGON

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—A man believed to be Baron Koenig Von Warthausen, famous 24-year-old German flier who was awarded the Hindenburg trophy for a long-distance flight from Berlin to Siberia, was seriously injured here today in an automobile accident.

The car in which the Baron and three others were riding collided with a milk truck. All four were taken to a local hospital with various injuries. The Baron was hurt internally.

The young Baron, who arrived in New York a few weeks ago, was riding in the rumble seat of the roadster with Mrs. Annette Bashin, of this city. Mrs. Bashin, daughter and her husband, Edwin Clemence were in the front seat.

In periods of consciousness at the hospital, the Baron talked incoherently of aviation and flying, hospital attaches said. A card found in his pocket gave the clue to his identity, and requested the German Consulate be notified in case of accident.

At the Consulate, it was said nothing was known of the accident. All officials of the Consulate were away on a holiday, this being the 11th anniversary of the signing of the Weimar constitution which established the German republic.

Court Pays Respect To Late W. E. Porter

Judge Hildebrand Expresses Sorrow At Death Of Former Judge

When the Lawrence County court adjourned today it did so out of respect to the memory of the late Judge William E. Porter, who died in Omaha, Neb., Saturday night, Aug. 9th. The motion for such adjournment was made by Attorney John P. Lockhart, vice president of the Lawrence County Bar Association.

In the motion, Mr. Lockhart recounted the fact that Judge Porter had long been a leader in professional and civic activities here, that he had served this county as Judge from 1905 to 1916 and that he had always represented the highest in professional ethics. The motion was granted by Judge Hildebrand.

In expressing his regret at the passing of Ex-Judge Porter, Judge Hildebrand said "the loss of Judge Porter is one that will be felt by the entire community. Professionally he represented the highest type of attorney. Always he placed principle above interest and took a firm stand for what he thought was the right thing, regardless of whether or not that stand was popular."

"In his passing, this community has lost one of its finest characters, and I have lost a friend whose kindly offices and wise counsel have meant more to me than words can express."

Attorney John P. Lockhart, vice president spoke for the Lawrence County Bar Association in the absence of the president. He said, "The members of the Lawrence County Bar Association, and the people of Lawrence County who knew him have heard of his death with profound sorrow. While he was judge of the Lawrence County courts, and while he was engaged in the practice of law, he lived up to the highest ideals of the profession. He was a positive force for good in the community. He always stood for those things he thought were right, and there was never any question where he stood on any moral question. He was a conscientious lawyer and had the confidence of his clients. His place will be most difficult to fill."

Ellwood Swims; Also Reads To Keep Cool

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 11.—It has been too hot to telephone, too hot to take long trips, so Ellwood City folks found a cool spot beside a sparkling brook, under a tree, and there they caught up with their reading. Or so one would be lead to believe after a general survey is made of the town upon a day such as has been mentioned.

To carry out the truth of this statement, we learn that the Public Library has given out more than 100 more books during the month of July than during the month of June. Not only are the fiction books finding circulation, but children are finding a charm to ward off the heat in fairy tales of mountain pixies and gnomes.

Of course there are the swimming and hundreds who find the swimming pools in the Slippery Rock to their liking and do not fail to enjoy their swim daily.

But while the library claims more borrowers and the service stations more customers, the "Hello" girls find less traffic on their line. Young women of the Bell Telephone Company with headquarters in Fifth street find people pleasant, but too tired for long conversations with their friends.

The business of telephoning remains a business and people apparently find it much too hot for long conversations about the weather, alluring infants, mothers in law and other topics, which take up so much time when another member of the party wishes to get a number.

In fact with approximately 300 new phones installed in the last year, in Ellwood homes, there is a smaller rate than before these installations were made. The new installations made Ellwood have a total of 2700 telephones.

At the present time the Ellwood telephone company employs a large number of girls, who take their turns working different shifts daily. Miss Helena White is chief operator and Miss Marjorie Mayne, night chief.

Others whose pleasant voices we hear beginning with "Number please" and ending in "Thank you" include Miss Thelma Hogue, Miss Leona Haiserman, Miss Edna Horton, Miss Elizabeth Horton, Miss Elizabeth Alexander, operator, Miss Mary Cooper, Miss Esther Crowe, Miss Eleanor Grimes, Miss Mary Ella Gordon, Miss Josephine Fida, Miss Sarah Rowan, Miss Lina Thompson, Miss Ida Blase, Miss Laura McCluskey, Miss Agnes Shinn, Mrs. Esther Parker and Mrs. Cleda Wiley, also four temporary assistants.

Aliquippa Tops Ellwood Team

Ellwood City Team Plays Ragged Game In Aliquippa Saturday—League Lead Tied

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 11.—A ragged Ellwood City nine traveled to Aliquippa on Saturday afternoon to be defeated by that club by the one-sided score of 7 to 3. This victory brings the top berth of the Beaver County league to a tie as the Beaver Grays and Aliquippa are deadlocked. They will battle it out this week.

Ellwood took an early lead by scoring two runs in the second session of the tilt, but Boyle weakened in fifth to allow one tally to the opponents, and he was taken out in the sixth to be replaced by Mundo as Aliquippa started the fireworks. The Beaver valley crew collected four markers in this chapter and put the game on ice.

In spite of the lead enjoyed by the winners they continued their aggressive attack by getting another pointer in the seventh and still another in the eighth. The Tubers added only one more in the last stanza of the fray.

Ruskovic was again forced to use Boyle in the box and he hurled a fine game until the sixth when he blew up. Mundo, who has been out of the firing position for several weeks with an infected finger, was sent in to the rescue. Ellwood had four errors which accounted for some of the scoring as Clarke and Mundo had two apiece chalked up against them.

Both clubs collected ten blows but the Beaver valley nine did the heavy slugging. T. Mordas and Chalke led the attack with a home run apiece. Not only did they clout out a circuit drive but both had a single and crossed the plate once for their mates.

Aliquippa not only played well in the hitting department but performed in big league style on the defense as no errors were marked up against them. Morrison handled six chances at right field and Brehaney three at second base.

Lattiano, M. Sanders and J. Hamilton started for Ellwood with two bingles apiece. Clarke knocked out a three-bagger to get the only extra-base hit made by the local club. Volpe, Fitzgerald and J. Hamilton handled their fielding jobs in first class fashion.

Next Wednesday finds the Tubers without a scheduled contest due to Rochester dropping out of the county loop. They will be idle for this date but will get plenty of action on Thursday night when the Homestead Grays return here for the second time this season.

In the first encounter the colored aggregation won over the locals in a close contest and the Ruskovic crew hopes to get revenge in this tilt. A large crowd of fans is expected to turn out to see this snappy outfit perform.

The lineup and score:

Slippery Rock To Be Trout Stream

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 11.—The Slippery Rock creek will be made into a trout stream in the near future according to M. A. Riley, one of the seven members of the state board of fish commissioners.

The president of the Rod and Gun club, Charles French has communicated with the state fish commission in Harrisburg asking that the local club be privileged to transfer fish from certain drying ponds to the creeks.

As soon as word is received from Harrisburg, this work will be started at once. A number of fishermen find no sport in making their catches in mud, they claim it's too easy to be a good sport. These fish will be taken to streams where water is plentiful.

Davis Cup Players Smile
Blandly When Informed
Borotra Will Retire

France Has Three Great Tennis Players In LaCoste,
Cochet and Borotra

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports
Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Members of the Davis Cup Tennis Team, who have been humorously enduring life at Southampton, profess themselves to be amused today by the announcement that Jean Borotra will play no more tennis on behalf of France and that the shock is almost too much for a saddened nation to bear. This must be very comical, because a tennis player is all too seldom amused. He has to stand out there in the fresh air all afternoon and naturally is greatly depressed with Rene LaCoste's declaration of doubt as to his ability to return to international tennis next year. The young man, it seems, is now so ill that all he can do is play four or five sets of tennis every day. Anyhow, they say that Borotra will cease to appear in tennis matches at each time as they drive up in a hearse and bear him tenderly away. There are said to be several reasons for this and that neither of them is at all important.

Will Be Stronger
The implied result of these observations would seem to be that France will be stronger next year at a time when America may be at its weakest. They will have LaCoste and LaCoste, respectively, the on-two ranking stars of world tennis and Borotra. If they deem that he is needed, we will have what we lost with this year, minus Mr. William T. Tilden 2nd. There is alleged to be only one essential difference between the withdrawals of Borotra and Mr. Will Tilden the duplex. The latter will not be asked to change his mind.

At that, he is the only American to win a singles match in the challenge round since France took the cup in 1927 so the inference is rather significant. It seems that our available singles players must get very much better or that France's must get very much worse. As to that, even the returning Americans admit that France can win the cup next year with Cochet and a couple of poor relations. They say he is greater now than ever before and this his defeat by Wilmer Allison at Wimbledon was due to the fact that he thought he couldn't lose and then when it was too late, found he couldn't win.

Start Reconstruction
Frankly, America's failure this year with LaCoste out of action represents the end of plans for immediate results and the beginning of a tedious reconstruction period, looking toward the future for its hope. Our best man, Lott, seems to be just good enough to lose in the challenge round by close scores. Van Ryn and Allison were the world's ranking doubles team when it left Wimbledon but Allison since hasn't been able to hit one as far as the net. The only thing certain about Doe and Mangin, reserve singles players, is that they are extremely uncertain.

Maybe the immediate future rests with eighteen-year-olds like Sidney B. Wood and Ellsworth Vines. A lot of people seem to think so. Vines, for instance, beat Frank Hunter twice in one week and looked the part of quite a man. Wood then beat Vines in straight sets and last week beat him from behind to win from Lott. Frank Shields, winner over Tilden and Allison. It takes a good man to beat them. However, only victories in the national championship really count and besides, we don't need men who are merely good. What we need are great men or apparently the Davis cup will stay in France until it grows bow-legged.

Dodgers Lead Now One Game

Robins Drop Pair To Cardinals As Cubs Smack Boston Braves For Two Defeats

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports
Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The pace that kills—whether it's under the sun-baked baseball diamonds or in the end always does it. Rins-Tin-Tin. And its victim today is the Brooklyn Robins.

Worn down to a mere bundle of nerves and tangled in a ruinous batting slump, the Robins face another crisis in their desperate fight to keep the National League leadership. As a matter of fact, all of the flock of players are physically "struck out" and three of them were so tired in Sunday's twin bill, which St. Louis grabbed 8 to 2 and 4 to 0, they could not get up enough ambition to run down to first base and were thrown out after they loaded down the line. The double loss dropped the Dodgers to a single game advantage over the Chicago Cubs. The Robins could gather only seven hits off Burleigh Grimes in the opener and Hallahan eased them up sharply in the tea-timer with five measly safeties. He fanned 12 of them.

Fancy flinging by Charlie Root and Pat Malone, linked with Hack Wilson's bludgeon, won twice for the Cubs over Boston, 8-0 and 11-1. Root humbled the Braves with three hits in the shutout and Wilson nipped his homers Nos. 37 and 38. In the evening debacle Malone permitted only five hits.

Ruth Hits 42
Babe Ruth poled homer No. 42 and the Yanks got 15 other blasts and won, 14 to 11, over the St. Louis Browns.

Earl Whitehill won his ninth in a row for the climbing Tigers, holding Boston to six singles and Detroit snared it, 4 to 2.

Even the topes were bowled over and very single Indian bit the dust as the Senators sacked Cleveland, 18 to 6. In the eighth inning came the climax as Washington availed himself 11 runners.

The Phillies spanked the Cincinnati Reds soundly by taking a double-header, 18 to 0 and 4 to 3. Collins scored in the nightcap in a hurling duel with Rixey by spacing the hits he allowed.

Other clubs were idle.

Manush Traded Into Place Money Twice

THE TIGERS TRADED HEINIE TO THE BROWNS AND THE BROWNS TRADED HIM TO THE SENATORS, BEING SENT INTO THE MONEY ON EACH SWITCH.

TWICE KICKED upstairs. That's the remarkable record of Heinie Manush who may not cut in on the world series melon this year, but surely will get either second or third place money.

Heinie got his start with the Tigers, Detroit, never getting anywhere, traded him to St. Louis, The Browns, at that time, began to perk up and finished in the money several times.

For the past several seasons the Browns have begun to sag and this year have no chance to finish in the money. However, earlier in the season Manush was traded to the Senators who are pennant contenders—so there you (and Heinie) are.

For
men who work
hard all day

If you earn a living these days you work — work hard. It makes no difference whether you stand behind a counter all day, or boss a gang; pore over a ledger or hit the streets as a salesman. To get there, you have to do a real day's work. And you get hungry. Hungry for real food — and for real chewing tobacco.

Mail Pouch is real tobacco with a real tobacco taste — not all dolled up with sweet stuff and artificial flavoring—choice tobacco does not need it. Mail Pouch is the cream of the crop from four famous tobacco states, blended according to an exclusive formula. And because it is not over-sweetened you can chew it without fear of indigestion or heartburn.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Industrial Stocks Show Some Rally

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Most of the industrial stocks rallied at the beginning of trading today as the result of the week-end improvement in the drought-stricken agricultural districts and the encouraging industrial statements. The Steel corporation contributed to this result by reporting a $3,000,000 increase in the July bookings of advance Steel orders, and some improvement was seen in the automobile markets.

The deluge of selling in Warner Brothers appeared to have been completed for the time being at least and the stock held steadily around 25. The Loews, Radio Keith and other amusement stocks were steady around the level of Saturday's close. American Can rallied to above 119 for a 2 1/2 point gain and Consolidated Gas pushed ahead 2 points.

The market was dull rather than weak in the second hour and the volume of trading fell off. Cotton was a disappointment, starting the new week about 75 cents a bale lower. The grain markets dropped off on the prompt resumption of profit-taking. December corn losing 2 1/2 cents a bushel. With short-covering in the active industrial demand for stocks. Another period of dullness similar to that witnessed early this month appeared to be in the making.

Columbia Gas was forced back to the year's low price at 57 1/2, down 1 1/2 as the move in the Utilities was resumed in the second hour. The Ralls made better showing with New York Central, Southern Railway and Atchafalpa leading the group into slightly higher prices.

Call money was unchanged at 2 per cent.

Market Today Shows Rally

Selling Pressure Lifted On Active Stock And Brings Slight Rally Today

By W. S. COUSINS, International News Service Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Selling pressure on the active stocks was lifted early in today's session and slight rallies were recorded in the grain markets. The volume of trading fell off in the forenoon to less than 900,000 shares, against 1,500,000 shares in the same period on Friday and the market appeared to be headed for another dull period. The cotton market broke about a dollar a bale, with the October, new, at the season's low price of 12 1/2 cents a pound. Grain prices started the new week at slightly higher levels, but the rush of profit taking forced values lower. Call money loaned at 2 per cent and bond prices were generally steady.

These were the main features of the financial markets today, as Wall Street and business heads made further efforts to ascertain the extent of the crop damage, or to corral such other factors as would throw any light on the business prospects. A $3,000,000 increase in July steel bookings looked good to the bulls, reflecting a better demand for automobile steel.

Short Coverings

Short covering by the professionals furnished the principal source of buying demand, and when this was exhausted the market was compelled to shift for itself. Stocks moved in sluggish fashion through an extremely narrow price range, with gains and losses equally divided among the speculative favorites. Warner Brothers appeared to be fairly stable around 25; United States Steel at 159; Bethlehem Steel at 80 and General Motors above 44.

On the whole the reports submitted to President Hoover today with respect to conditions in the corn belt were encouraging. Prompt relief measures, aided by the railroads' lower rate form of cooperation, are already having their effect in the areas most affected by the drought. Wall Street was inclined to take a more cheerful view of the situation and there was apparently a small volume of stock overhauling the market.

The bears had comparatively easy work in forcing down prices of Bethlehem Steel, Colorado Fuel and other speculative shares "on the tape," but it was an entirely different story how much actual liquidation they were able to bring out. The brokerage houses, aided by incoming orders to do, as measured by incoming orders from their customers, and short selling originating on the floor of the stock exchange must sooner or later be offset by professional re-buying. The market was practically "dead" in the third hour, with the ticket wheels turning sluggishly at last week's slow gait.

Two Awning Fires Occur On Sunday

Firemen from No. 5 department were called to Long avenue Sunday afternoon by two awning fires, occurring within a short time of each other.

At 2:40, Officer Griswell discovered the awning of Fisher's store ablaze and extinguished it with a bucket of water, after which he notified Capt. McIlwain of No. 5, who went over and looked the place over to make sure that the blaze had been entirely extinguished.

At 3:20, an alarm was sounded from Box 55, calling firemen to the Star Fish Market at 130 East Long avenue, where the awning was found ablaze, presumably caused by someone dropping a cigarette on it from the apartments above the store. Damage of $10 was caused.

S. S. Warehouse Of Merchants Robbed

Believed By The Police To Be The Work Of A Number Of Boys

Warehouse of the South Side Merchants Union, located in the old Knitting Mill plant on South Mill street, was entered some time last night, according to the report made this morning to the police.

Detective Logan and Officer Thomas Lynch made the investigation this morning and found that entrance had been gained by forcing a rear window.

Little of value was taken other than some baked beans and other goods to be eaten. The police are of the opinion that it was the work of boys.

The quickest way to grate cheese is to put it through the food chopper.

Municipal Judge Wars On Capone

Chicago Judge Orders Police Seek Out Gangsters And Arrest Them

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Judge John H. Lyle, of Municipal Court, today declared war on Al "Scarface" Capone and Chicago's gangland.

Referring to reports that the North Side Gang, formerly headed by George "Bugs" Moran, had been taken over by Capone and placed under the direction of Ted Newberry, Capone lieutenant, Lyle called Capt. Hugh McCarthy of the police force before him and issued his ultimatum.

"I see from the papers that the so-called Moran gang has been ousted and that a man named Newberry has been placed in charge by Capone," he said.

"Newberry and his men are supposed to have established headquarters at Broadway and Weyland avenues on the North Side of the City. I suggest that you raid the headquarters of the gang and arrest all gunmen, crooks or men connected with the crime outfit."

"I will cooperate with you in every way to drive them out of that territory. If you want any search warrants to look for sawed-off shot guns, bombs, or other crime implements, I will issue them."

Problems Of India Told By Speaker At Rotary Club Meet

Rev. Foster Of Punjab, Upholds Katherine Mayo's Book, "Mother India"

Pertinent facts of Mahatma Gandhi's campaign of passive resistance and the gist of the entire British-Indian political squabble, were outlined before New Castle Rotarians at a meeting this noon in The Castleton by Rev. R. A. Foster, an educator of Sialkot, the Punjab, India.

One of the highlights of Rev. Foster's talk was his declaration that the American woman author of "Mother India", Katherine Mayo, told the truth in her volume, which sharply criticizes the social and religious life of the Indians.

"She struck straight from the shoulder, but she told the truth," the speaker asserted.

Rev. Foster said that in his opinion the Mahatma is one of the great men in the world today. His spiritual and mysterious power over his people has placed him at the head of all India, the speaker said. He added, however, that Gandhi will never be a military or political leader, but is destined to solve the spiritual needs in his role of master philosopher for his people.

Rev. Foster explained the work of the Simon Commission that tested the findings of the Montefiore-Chelmsford reform program to find a way for Indian independence and told how the Indian leaders in opposition to the Simon group, proposed the Nehru constitution for India. The speaker told of Gandhi's adherents, both male and female who caused Great Britain undue embarrassment by their activities in the India salt works.

Rev. Foster is assistant principal of the Boys high school of the American Mission in the Punjab, where he has lived several years. Now in this country on a furlough, he is attending the Missionary conference in New Wilmington. He was introduced at the Rotary meeting by Dr. W. C. Wallace, president of Westminster College. President W. T. McCullough, of the New Castle Rotary club presided.

Aged Man Beaten And Then Robbed

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 11.—Beaten and robbed, William Hoffman 71, was found early today in a semi-conscious condition near the county court house by passers-by.

At Mercy Hospital it was said he was suffering from a probable skull fracture.

He recovered consciousness enough to tell the police he had been beaten and robbed of a small sum.

Hoffman is the second aged man in Pittsburgh to be beaten and robbed of small amounts during the last few days.

Margaret Schilling, 19-year-old New York choir girl, recently took a film studio test and made the best screen appearance said studio had ever witnessed. In consequence, Miss Schilling went to Hollywood to have a try at the talkies and "singing" in filmland.

Pinchot Makes Sure Of Running For Governorship

Pinchot Supporters File Petitions Asking To Use Name Of Independent Party

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 11.—If the State Supreme Court rules that Gifford Pinchot is not the nominee of the Republican party in Pennsylvania he will run on a ticket to be known as the fair play party.

This was definitely assured today when P. S. Stahlnecker, the former governor's secretary, filed the necessary papers for use of that party name in the Dauphin County court.

Although it generally was known that Pinchot was taking the necessary steps to become an independent candidate if conditions made such a course necessary, the name of the party which he will use was uncertain.

A group of Pinchot's supporters several weeks ago filed the necessary papers with the Dauphin County Court to use the name Independent Party.

The papers filed with the court today bear five names, all from the anthracite region. They are: Harry T. Farrell and Stephen J. Bilko, both of Nanicoke, Harry Trebilcock, David J. Williams and Charles L. Gavenonis, all of Plymouth.

Alligator Found Near Bradford, Pa.

(International News Service)
BRADFORD, Pa., Aug. 11.—Florida, it seems, has competition in holding to its monopoly of alligators.

Donald Graham, of Bradford, found a three-foot specimen in Luna creek near here Saturday.

Covered with oil, grease and dirt the reptile is believed to be one of the survivors of a batch placed in a nearby creek by Z. B. Custer more than 12 years ago.

Graham has placed the animal on display in Bradford.

Detroit Murder Suspect Held By New York Police

Man Wanted In Connection With Buckley's Slaying Held For Detroit Officials

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Theodore Pizzino, 37, was held without bail as a fugitive from justice when he was arrested today. Pizzino was arrested Saturday as a suspect in three Detroit murders.

Michael De Lagi, former New York magistrate, was Pizzino's attorney. He told reporters he would prove that Pizzino was not in Detroit the time of the murder of Gerald Buckley, crusading radio announcer who was shot down in Detroit hotel on July 23. Pizzino was in New York at that time, according to De Lagi.

There will be further hearing on Thursday, when necessary papers will have arrived from Detroit.

Pizzino's wife, who had not seen him since his arrest, was in court and the couple exchanged greetings.

Pizzino has denied knowledge of the murders.

Nineteen countries were represented at the sixth Child Welfare congress, held in Peru in July. The United States delegation was composed of 12 appointed by the state department and four representing the Red Cross and the National Council of Catholic Women.

You're the JUDGE

The Decision

The court held against the landlord. The judges reasoned thus: Here there is a law in the statute books for the benefit of a person, and he has a right to receive damages for any wrong done him in the violation of that law. The fire escape law was enacted for the benefit of those living in such buildings. When that law is violated he who suffers loss has a right to recover, and this is so whether he knew that the law was being violated or whether he did not.

If only we could have freedom that wouldn't settle in the tigger finger.

British Troops And Tribesmen Battle Fiercely

Hand To Hand Combats Reported From Northwestern Indian Frontier

SEVERAL KILLED REPORT SHOWS

(International News Service) LONDON, Aug. 11.—Fierce hand-to-hand fighting backed by an array of exploding air bombs resounded on the northwestern Indian frontier today as British troops and invading Afridi tribesmen engaged in sharp clashes.

Bullets splattered the ancient walls of Peshawar, gateway to the famous Khyber Pass and one of Britain's important military strongholds, for whose possession the swarthy, swiftly-moving hillmen have repeatedly organized strong attacks.

Advices to the London Daily Herald stated that after several earlier skirmishes designed to draw British defense forces from strategic positions, the Afridi pounced upon a detachment of Indian cavalry patrolling the outskirts of Peshawar and killed six troopers. Immediately after they attacked a military supply depot near a railway station within the shadow of the city walls and set fire to a warehouse.

Cavalry gave hot pursuit and Royal Air forces planes rained bombs upon the Afridi, but the extent of the hillmen's casualties could not be ascertained.

It was revealed that an expected Afridi mass attack was merely a ruse, headed through the border region by spies to distract attention from a more dangerous attack by tribesmen on the Royal Air Force base at Risalpur and the blowing up of bridges to disrupt communication and transport lines. Afridi armed with dynamite stolen from the Khyber railway were reported moving toward the bridges in an attempt to destroy them.

ROAMING With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Tragedy strikes with sudden swift-ness at times. Out of the clear sky of contentment may come a bolt of adversity, and then suddenly the sky clears again and the tragedy disappears. Saw one of those things happen Saturday night, an accident, and for a time nothing could convince a mother that her little lad hadn't been killed.

He had been down on Sciota street and the trip had necessitated taking his mother's purse with him. When he finished the errand for her there was fifty cents left and then boy like he forgot the purse. When he met his mother up on Mill street she noticed the absence of the purse and asked him where it was.

Like a flash he recalled where he had left it and wheeling, darted across the street. A car coming around the corner on Reynolds street couldn't stop fast enough to avoid hitting the youngster, nobody could have probably, and in an instant the boy was knocked down.

To the anguished mother the sight was a horrible one. She had no time to pick the boy up for in a twinkling the driver had hopped out, gathered the boy in his arms and rushed him to the hospital. Grief stricken the mother gave her emotions vent thru the only outlet she knew, tears and wails. Beating her breast, hair streaming back, eyes filled with tears she began hurrying to the hospital, confident that her boy was dead.

Fortunately he wasn't injured much at all. His guardian angel was on the job and as the boy fell, pushed him out of the path of the wheels. A scratch on one heel and on one elbow was all that he suffered, but for a little while the mother's grief was as real and as poignant as though he had been taken away.

Old Mercury took it on the bridge-work last night. Don't know what the temperature was in town, but out on the Slippery Rock it went down and down and down. Three heavy woolen blankets and a spread were none too much, but customers what a sleep.

About midnight the moon climbed up into the mid-heaven and the trees looked as though they were pointed with snow. The forest was as quiet as the tomb, save for the barking of a fox occasionally, with now and then the deep throaty bay of some farmer's dog away over the hill.

And after sleeping six or seven hours in that air, ordinary eggs taste like something the Olympian gods might have concocted, and coffee takes on the flavor of ambrosia.

When President Hoover's drought commission starts to dork, they can put down one succotash farm that is about all washed up. That dork and a quarter's worth of seed seems to be about seventy per cent loss, and those hours of hoe exercise raised nothing much more than a flock of blisters.

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio, Aug. 11.—Glen Roberts, 23, suffered the amputation of his left leg today when he was struck by the propeller of an airplane as it crashed when caught by a cross current of wind at the Rinehart field here.

Members of the party enjoyed the trip well with very few cases of "mal de mer" and are now started on their tour of Europe.
